Dear ISO/TC 207 Member,

ISO/TC 207 considers balanced representation among diverse stakeholders valuable in the development of ISO standards and important to the legitimacy of the ISO process, assisting in the subsequent uptake and implementation of the standards by all stakeholders.

The ISO/TC 207 Leadership supports a participatory methodology based on a well-balanced, multi-stakeholder Technical Committee comprised of experts nominated by ISO members and encourages all ISO member bodies to consider stakeholder representation in the establishment of their respective delegations.

In that regard, and building on the e-mail sent to you earlier by the ISO/TC 207 Secretary (N799), and the CAG NGO TF Proposal 4, which was approved by the TC in January 2005, I would like to encourage all ISO member bodies of the TC 207 TC to make every effort to have balanced representation at our June Beijing meeting week, and at all other international meetings, particularly at the WG level. Indeed the above is intended to ensure that our processes are credible in a world where diverse stakeholders are required to ensure the best possible outcomes

Sincerely,

Dan Gagnier
Chair of ISO/TC 207
